DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: “through-shaped” should be –trough-shaped—as per the abstract; see page 1, lines 3, 6-8, etc.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 9-14 are objected to because of the following informalities: “through-shaped” (claim 9, line 1, etc.) is understood to be “trough-shaped”. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Buchko (US 5,682,729) in view of Ima et al. (US 5,761,980).

Buchko discloses a packaging machine including elements to form trough-shaped packages comprising transverse cutter 166; at least one longitudinal cutter 200 driven in a vertically displaceable manner (rotated) for separating trays (see column 8, lines 4+); control means 210 for controlling the operations. Buchko does not directly disclose the use of a counter roller for the rotating longitudinal cutters however Ima et al. disclose rotating longitudinal cutting devices³ with driven vertically displaceable counter rollers units 24; see figures 1-2.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include the counter roller cutting device of Ima et al. in the invention to Buchko in order to insure longitudinal cutting of trays where desired.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
